In certain offices of IAS, such as those concerned with policy, security guidance, and the offices of the chiefs of the divisions, statistics re workload and backlog would be infeasible to obtain and meaningless. For a discussion of the work of these and other offices of IAS see the IAS Memorandum to DD/A dated 10/27/52. For those offices whose workload can be indicated by statistics, the figures are set forth below.

OTHER WORK OF SD, HANDLED AS RECEIVED

Certifications to State Dept.	40 per month average
Security concurrences on transfers	100 per month average
Name checks for other gov't. agencies	1,700 per month average
Interviews	307 per month average
*Polygraph cases	535 per month average

*The average backlog on polygraph cases is represented by an elapsed time of two days between the request and the interview. This would be a continuing backlog of about 60 cases. Though this backlog is comparatively not too great, it is important that it be removed so people entering on duty can be polygraphed with a minimum of delay. Furthermore additional people are and three are undergoing on-the-job training. It takes about six months to train and develop an efficient operator.

MISCELLANEOUS WORKLOAD INFORMATION

Reference index carding of files is backlogged to Oct. 1951.
Miscellaneous material awaiting carding goes back to Feb. 1951.
The files have not been purged since 1946.
Six per cent of the time of the Personal Security Branch is spent in serving other government agencies.

In the office of the chief of Special Security Division (SSD) it is not possible to fully measure the work by figures that mean anything. However, as an example of the work load the two agents now working there have 93 assignments of various types and degrees and in addition see on the average about 40 people a day.

The present volume of cases is so great that a case usually won't be reached for action before two weeks after its receipt in I&S. Also, for the same reason, the work per case is at a minimum. When and if the volume of cases eases off then each case can be given more time and be handled with the research and thoroughness which it should have and which is not possible at present. Fewer cases will not lessen the immediate need for more people.

In security clearance and other investigations I&S has made use of contractual services and other investigative agencies as much as possible. Now following its own feelings and the recommendations of the Report it is trying to cut back on these outside services and do as much of the work as possible with its own people. As and if the applicant case load lessens and the back log begins to be eaten away, these outside services will gradually be cut to a minimum. It is not anticipated that this will occur within the next year.

25X1A9A

In addition to investigations for overt, semi-covert, and covert clearances, military personnel clearances, and miscellaneous other clearance investigations, I&S estimates there are people on duty who have not had a full and complete security investigation. With the requested and the above regular investigations, it is anticipated that only 300 of these re-investigations can be made during the next year. If clearance requests are increased in number then I&S will be able to do more of these re-investigations.

25X9A2

INSPECTION DIVISION

The past and proposed activities of the Inspection Division are set forth in the Memo to the DD/A dated 10/27/52. The current work load doesn't lend itself to statistical presentation. The additional personnel requested for this division are to carry out the recommendations of the [] Report for inspections of overseas installations.

25X1

ADMINISTRATION AND TRAINING STAFF

The administrative work cannot be accurately described by figures. It is well set forth in aforesaid Memo of 10/27/52.

Some facts re Training are as follows:

I&S employees trained since 1 Feb. 1952
I&S employees expected to be trained, Jan-June 1953

25X9A2

Courses planned, Jan-June 1953:

SECURITY RESEARCH STAFF

The six professionals presently on duty each have a current case load of 15-20 cases. In addition there are approximately 150 cases awaiting action.

This staff is also working on the [] project, which work includes planning, recruitment, equipping and training teams, and coordination with the area divisions.

25X1A2D1

The work of this Staff includes on an average each month:

Letters to outside Agencies	50
Memoranda to CIA offices	150
Conferences	150

The guidance and information support which this Staff furnishes cannot be measured meaningfully by figures. See the Memo to DD/A dated 10/27/52 for a description of its activities.
